Principal Report

Student Expectations
At the end of last term all students should have collected their interim reports on courses of studies that they are currently undertaking this year. Those reports that have not been collected are being mailed home. We were also extremely pleased by the strong turnout of parents who attended the parent/teacher day/evening in the last week of the term. It was clear that the reports and the student learning information, accessible through our Compass software platform, provided parents with relevant and quality information to discuss their child’s performance at school in interviews with their classroom teachers. It is now important that any recommendations or strategies that were suggested in the teacher interviews to improve student school performance be acted upon on during term 2. To further support this we ask parents to continue to track their child’s learning progress on Compass and email classroom teachers to raise issues when they arise. Parents, who actively involve themselves in the education of their children, greatly enhance the likelihood of their child’s success at school.

Finally it is important to stress that those students who do not direct the appropriate effort into their school work and as a result fail to meet expected learning outcomes, will certainly jeopardise their chances of promotion into the next year level or placement into a chosen field of study.

NAPLAN Testing
This week all students in years 7 and 9 have been undertaking their The National Assessment Program – Literacy and Numeracy (NAPLAN) tests. To prepare students time has been devoted in class to familiarise them with the NAPLAN booklet organisation and the sorts of questions that would be presented within the tests. We believe that this preparation has certainly enhanced their capacity to perform the tests without being disadvantaged. We also organised pastoral care teachers to be timetabled into exam supervision roles to ensure a suitable exam climate prevailed throughout all the test sessions. Results from these tests will be provided to parents before the end of the year and the information the school receives about each student’s performance on the tests will be used by teachers for future student program planning across the curriculum.

Attitudes to School Survey
Over the last two weeks our school has been required to have all students in years 7-12 complete the Department of Education and Early Childhood Development’s ‘Student Attitudes to School Survey’. The information gathered from these surveys will be mapped against 3 key areas; Student Wellbeing, Teaching and Learning and Student Relationships. The current surveying this year was implemented by key staff to ensure the results truly reflect the perceptions of our students. They are a good barometer of how Cranbourne SC is performing compared to other state government schools in the key areas outlined above.

Advising of absences via the Compass Parent Portal

Compass contains a lot of information about your child and their time at school. As much as it is useful to advise the school of absences prior to them occurring, sometimes this just isn’t possible. You can access a list of all unapproved absences for your child, and if appropriate, approve them.

1. Click on the blue words Student Profile.
2. You will be taken to your child's Profile Page.
3. Click on the tab for Attendance.
   - (On this page you can also look at their Teacher Education which have been posted by their teachers)
4. By default, you will be shown a summary of your child's attendance information, including percentage attendance data for each subject.
5. To access any past unapproved absences, click on the link to Unapproved just below the tabs.
6. You will be shown a list of all unapproved absences recorded for your child. You can approve multiple absences at the one time by clicking on the boxes next to each class, then clicking on Parent Approve.

If there are absences on this list which you do not approve of, please contact your child’s sub school leader.
